RE: Notice of Arrest and/or Charges

To Whom it May Concern:

This letter is your notice. The Madison County District Attorney's Office was recently informed that Officer Lucas Cunningham with the City of Madisonville Police Department has been arrested and charged with the misdemeanor offense of Official Oppression. The officer has not been convicted of the offense, as of this date (March 5, 2021), however charges have been filed. The allegation involved conduct that occurred while the officer was employed and on duty with the City of Madisonville Police Department. The Madison County District Attorney's office will be reviewing cases that may have been affected by this Officer, however, the District Attorney's Office is unaware of any pending or previous cases with the Madison County District Attorney's Office that were directly affected by the specific conduct that formed the allegation of the arrest. If you have had a case involving the City of Madisonville Police Department on or after 12/12/2014 your case may have involved this officer. Again, this letter is meant to place you and the public on notice of these facts.

The Madison County District Attorney's Office was recently informed that Deputy Austin Myers with the Madison County Sheriff's Office has been arrested for an offense involving Assault Family Violence. The officer has not been convicted of the offense, as of this date (February 25, 2021). The allegation involved conduct that did not occur while on duty with the Madison County Sheriff's Office. The Madison County District Attorney's office will be reviewing cases that may have been affected by this Officer, however, the District Attorney's Office is unaware of any pending or previous cases with the Madison County District Attorney's Office that were directly affected by the conduct that formed the information for the allegation and/or arrest. If you have had a case involving the Madison County Sheriff's Office on or after 6/11/2018 your case may have involved this deputy. Again, this letter is meant to place you and the public on notice of these facts.

Moving forward the Madison County District Attorney Office will solely be posting all notices such as this online at for you and the public. <http://www.co.madison.tx.us/page/madison.District.Attorney>
